

Stewards' Panel Chair

Scotland/East Yorkshire/East Midlands/East Anglia/Wales
Minimum of 20 days a year
Volunteer

The British Horseracing Authority is the joint regulatory and governing body for British Horseracing, which ensures the continuing integrity and successful development of the sport.

We currently have exciting opportunities for voluntary Stewards' Panel Chairs to join our Stewarding team in the following areas: Scotland, East Yorkshire, East Midlands, East Anglia, and Wales

As the Stewards' Panel Chair you will work closely with the Chief Steward and the rest of the Raceday team ensuring the race meeting is run in accordance with the BHA Rules and Instructions. You will be responsible for upholding the values of the British Horseracing Authority and the company's code of conduct at all times, whilst acting as a voting member of the raceday panel by chairing enquiries. A competency-based training programme will support the development of the successful candidate and, dependent on the previous background of the candidate, a period of training will be tailored.

The successful candidate will be an enthusiastic team player able to work in confidential and sensitive situations. Excellent verbal communication skills are essential along with strong interpersonal skills and the ability to show initiative and be decisive in a time pressured environment. The applicants should have an active interest in horses and horse racing, with the ability to race read being essential.

You will be a flexible individual with a measured approach and the ability to match diplomacy with authority, and the capability to exercise independent thinking. Given the nature of the role, you will require a full valid driving license and be willing to travel. Overnight stays are sometimes required as part of the role, as well as being prepared to work outside the normal working day including evenings, weekends, and bank holidays.

Expenses will be paid in line with the company's expenses policy.

If you feel you have the relevant skills and experience, please apply using the following link: <https://www.cognitoforms.com/BritishHorseracingAuthority/ApplicationToBecomeAVolunteerStewardsPanelChairSPC>

The closing date for applications will be Sunday 23rd October 2023.
